Your Companies House personal code is:
XQR-8S67-2223

You can also find your code in the Manage

account \(opens in new tab\) \(/user/account?lang=en\) section of your Companies House account.

What you'll need your Companies House personal code for

You'll need your personal code for various reasons. For example:

- as part of some company filings, such as the confirmation statement \(opens in new tab\) (<https://www.gov.uk/guidance/confirmation-statement-guidance>)
- if you are appointed as a director
- if you become a person with significant control \(PSC\) \(opens in new tab\) (<https://www.gov.uk/guidance/people-with-significant-control-pscs#:~:text=A%20person%20with%20significant%20control,someone%20associated%20with%20your%20company.>)

The code is personal to you, not your company or a company you work for. If you are a director or a PSC, you'll need to use your Companies House personal code to connect your verified identity to our records. This is a requirement, and will ensure that we know the correct person is linked to the name we have on file.

Your personal code is not the same as the company authentication code \(opens in new tab\) (<https://www.gov.uk/guidance/company-authentication-codes-for-online-filing>). If you have an authentication code, you should continue to keep this safe as you'll need it to file online. You may need your personal code for some online filings as well.

Only share the code with people you trust

You may need to share this code with people you trust to file on your behalf, or for your company. Keep this information secure, as you would with other unique codes such as your Unique Taxpayer Reference (UTR) for HMRC.

Identity verification makes it much more difficult for criminals to impersonate someone, but not impossible.
